Started in August of 2012, AVB completed the energy efficient Borgess Health Park in Battle Creek, Michigan on time and under budget. The 65,000 square foot ambulatory care facility includes primary care and specialty physician areas, as well as a medical imaging room, diagnostics area, occupational therapy room and sleep clinic with potential bariatric, vascular and general services to be added in the future.

It was important to us at AVB, as well as for Borgess Health to incorporate sustainable features in the design and construction of the building. Built to meet LEED standards, some of the environmentally conscious attributes of the new Battle Creek facility include 100% LED lighting, Variable Air Volume ventilation systems that imitate human breathing patterns and landscape featuring native plant species that require less irrigation and pest control.

The Borgess Health Park opened in mid-June of 2014, and looks forward to continuing its health care service and extending beyond the Kalamazoo area. AVB was proud to continue the longstanding relationship with Borgess and Ascension Health in order to provide a sustainable, environmentally conscious health care facility.
