Located in Western Michigan University Business, Technology and Research (BTR) Park, this 58,000 sq. ft. facility is the premier wet-lab business incubator in the Midwest. The building is comprised of wet-lab research space, meeting rooms, and offices designed to serve emerging science entrepreneurs. The entire building is equipped with the latest systems and technology to provide researchers the ability to get right to work with cutting-edge, emerging businesses. AVB worked directly with WMU to manage this project, including connection to the BTR Park's state-of-the-art storm water management system.
